Advertiser Thirty-Eight Years Ago

Mrs. B. P. Procter sent us a couple of old Advertisers bearing the name of Drake & Sons, Editors and Printers. These papers came from the press March 7th and May the 4th 1877. The latter edition was in fact printed by Geo. H. Watkins of Paris Hill as Uncle Sam's Fairhaven Press had been sold by the mortgagee and had been moved to Gorman, N. H. for use in the Mountaineer office. This was done sometime in April and May the 4th of 1877. The print was a 6 column folio out of sheets printed by the New York Newspaper Union. This paper was printed regularly until the office was sold to J. A. Seitz & Son in 1878.

Trade With Home Merchants

Buy in Norway, or South Paris. Prospects. The way to bring back normal business conditions throughout the country is to make all the business possible for your home town. We do not protest against the great, est possible success of manufacturers and mail-order houses in New York or Chicago, but what we want to see is first, and most of all, is the greatest measure of prosperity for the business houses right here in our home towns.
No one individual can bring this about. But all of us working together, and working all the time, can do a great deal to help bring it about. And the result will realize all of us far more than we could if we let the money you spend here will help keep local workmen employed. That means increased business for you, whatever your occupation.
The best motto for us all and always, and the thing we are ought to practice, is to buy at home.

Clean-Up and Paint-Up

The governor of Maine has issued a proclamation and urges that "clean-up and paint-up week" take an interest in advancing the movement and devote as much time as possible in the week of May 3rd to 8th, to cleaning and renovating their houses, places of business and yards appurtenant thereto, as well as alleys and vacant lots which may be in any part of their control. Co-operation in the observance of this will make for better health, greater security from fire danger and improved living and working conditions for all, and must prove of great economic value.

Cow Moose Comes to the Barn

A. K. Paul of Boston at one time proprietor of the Beals' Hotel, Norway, has come into the lime light at his home at Seabrook this state as the owner of a cow moose. It is said this moose came up with the cattle and wanted to live with them and they took her in. Permission was got of the Fish and Game Commissioners and the moose is still living on the Paul Ranch at that town and is herding with his cattle.

The Mellin M. Sawyer farm at East Oxford from M. M. Sawyer to Maurice L. Noyes of South Paris, also the Maurice L. Noyes cottage on Park street, South Paris to Mellin M. Sawyer of Auburn. The above transfers were negotiated through the Dennis Pike Real Estate & Insurance Agency.

State Highway Commission

An important piece of work planned is through the town of Poland in Androskog County. Here the highway commission has made an arrangement with Hiram Rickard & Sons whereby they are now building a splendid road in front of all property, a distance of about half a mile. The commission will take up the work at the point where the Welchville road branches off at the foot of Ricker Hill, on the shore of Range Pond, and will go as far as it can with the money available. It is hoped to get well along towards Welchville.

District Sunday School Convention

The district Sunday school convention of Oxford County, was held at the Congregational church, Wednesday. The morning session opened at 10:15 with a song service. The Grade Roll superintendents gave brief talks on the work of their societies. Among those were: Maud Ellen Pike of Norway, Mrs. Frank Taylor of South Paris and Mrs. Emma F. Robinson of Bethel. The delegates from the different schools gave reports from their societies. At the afternoon session a constitution was adopted and the officers elected as follows:

Mrs. B. F. Bradbury

Mrs. Ava Y. Bradbury, died at her home on Main street, Norway, Tuesday, May 4th, at 6:45 p. m., of malignant disease, aged 53 years, 6 months and 22 days.
She was born in Bethel, Oct. 13, 1861, the daughter of Hiram and Olive (Bacon) Young. She was educated at Gould Academy, and lived at Bethel till 1898 and since that time at Norway. Religiously she was a Universalist. She was a Rebekah, a member of the Eastern Star, the Wildcat club and the Boston Reading club.
She married William E. Finney, June 5, 1888, and Dr. F. E. Bradbury, Aug. 30, 1898. Her two children are Mrs. E. L. Cowan and Jameson Finney of Norway.
Besides the two children and husband, Dr. Bradbury, she leaves a sister, Mrs. L. B. Hopkins of Bridgton, and two brothers, Elmer H. Young of Bethel and Frank E. Young of Portland.
Mrs. Bradbury was a most pleasing singer and for a number of years sang in the Norway Congregational church. She also sang in many concerts and entertainments in her home town and other places.
She enjoyed the bright side of life, and liked beautiful things. In her illness she was even thoughtful for her friends and cheerful for her sakes. It was her way to put the best side forward. She was fortunate in having her children and husband besides the best of nurses with her during her sickness.

Mother's Day

Following the delightful custom of several seasons Mother's Day will be observed next Sunday May 9th at the Norway Methodist Sunday School. This is the one Sunday in all the year especially devoted to honoring our mother. The suggestion for the general observance of this day is that every one present wear a pink in honor of their mother a bright one for a mother living and a white one for a mother dead.

Mrs. Gertrude (Dunn) Bartlett

Mrs. Gertrude (Dunn) Bartlett passed away Saturday, May 1st, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer T. Dunn on Alpine street, at the age of 41 years, 10 months and 21 days. She has been a great sufferer for several months. Mrs. Bartlett was born in East Boston, June 10, 1873 and was the daughter of Elmer T. and Sarah E. Dunn.
The bearers were Bertrand Dunn, Wallace Dunn, Asa Bartlett and Benjamin Bartlett. Burial took place at Pine Grove cemetery, amid a profusion of beautiful floral tributes.

Birthday Party

A birthday party was given to Katherine Longley by her parents on Maple street, Thursday, April 29th, it being her fifth birthday.
Besides the family there were Paul and Horace Brown, Mary Gibson and Howard DeCoster.
A treat of ice cream, cake, oranges and sandwiches were served and a fine time enjoyed by all.

Clean Bill For Water

Dr. Evans of the Laboratory of Hygiene gives Norway a clean bill in his recent analysis. He says there is no trace of sewerage pollution and he says there is less soot or surface water than usual for this time of year. He passes upon the quality of the water four times each year.

Birthday Anniversary

Mrs. Susan Cragin went to Portland April 26, to spend her birthday week with her son, Dr. Chas. Langmaid Cragin. She made calls Wednesday, getting in about six. She was called to supper and surprised to find electric lights out and seventy-one candles of different colors burning around a fine decorated cake. In the center was a good luck on the old candle, burning for good luck on the next birthday. Mrs. Cragin once said "I transposed those figures, take away fifty-four candles and I will be just what I feel, seventeen."

Statements That May Be Investigated.

Testimony of Norway Citizens

When a Norway citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Norway resident. No stronger proof of a merit can be had.

"The public statement I gave praising Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago, was right in every particular," says S. C. Foster, barber, of Main St., Norway.

"I used this remedy, getting it from Stone's Drug Store and I am glad to say that it is the best one on the market. Sometimes when I catch cold, it settles on my kidneys, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills give me relief."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Foster had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo N. Y.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES

INTENSE SUFFERING

Sixteen years ago I was taken sick with kidney trouble and suffered terribly for three months. I did not work during this time and was mostly confined to the bed. After using other remedies I finally tried a bottle of Swamp-Root. I immediately began to feel better, and using seven fifty-cent bottles, was entirely cured and have had no kidney trouble since. I can truly say that I owe my good health to Swamp-Root. You may publish this letter for the benefit of other people afflicted as I was with the hope of bringing to their attention this most wonderful remedy.

Yours very truly,

Hattie A. Quimby,

36 Spruce St., Waterville, Maine.

Kennebec County, ss

Personally appeared the above named Hattie A. Quimby, who subscribed above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will do For You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Norway Weekly Oxford Co. Advertiser. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Paint?

There are two good reasons for painting often—enough or even too often. One is to look prosperous; two, to be so. Nothing does one more credit or gives one more credit than paint, supplemented of course by what goes with it; and paint costs nothing.

True the first cost is $5 or $6 a gallon put on; but it saves more than that in the property, saves it from slow going jump when water gets in on wood and iron.

Dry wood and iron cost nothing, kept dry by paint.

Better paint when it needs it. Paint never goes down in the sense of being more profitable next year.

JUNIOR EXHIBITION

The 10th Annual Junior Exhibition of the Norway High school was on Thursday evening at the Grand Opera House. The attendance this year was not as large as in former years but the evening's entertainment was well worth full house.

The orchestra class was marshalled to their seats by Paul L. Brooks from the front-room at the rear of the hall. There were 30 members of the orchestra. The soloists were: Misses Beatrice Gammon, George E. Dunn, Gertrude E. Hunt, Albert R. Bartlett, Dorris E. Shephard, Shirley E. McKay, Paul S. Johnson, Guy Harrison, and Eugene E. Frances. Frances G. Andrews, Dorothy Truman, Guy Harrison, Marion Bradley, Howard Evans, Russell Bethell, Francis Hall, and Eugene E. Frances were the Madeline Nurses.

The evening program opened with music by the high school orchestra. The musicians were: Mildred Curtis, piano; Guy Harrison, violin; Eugene E. Frances, cello; Leslie Gibson, Roland McCormick, and Floyd Haskell, clarinet. Prayer was offered by Rev. H. L. Nichols.

The young people who took part in the speaking, spoke very clearly and distinctly and showed that no small amount of study and training had been put into a work. Each received hearty applause.

Francis S. Andrews read the Quillotine Victor Hugo, which is the pleadings of an old man for his son before a jury, who is about to meet his death at the Blows, setting forth the curse of capital punishment.

Beatrice Gammon told the story of how a train was saved from destruction by the engineer believing he saw a ghost ahead, and through fear stopped his train, to find that the tracks ahead were out of commission and a few feet more would have meant death.

George E. Dunn recited the selection

Breaths There a man with Soul So ad" and closed with an urgent request a higher and truer type of citizenship love of one's country.

Gertrude E. Hunt recited the story of a girl who refused to take the Hund and second stitch on the sheet and s denied food as long as she refused, til her aunt saw the folly of her plan.

Albert R. Bartlett spoke on the Spirit the age adverse to war, depicting the digestion of affairs in the world when fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man is universal and wars are no more.

Morris E. Shepard told the story of the fighting of Alzada at a basket ball game. The team was a hard one to beat but by special practice on a similar floor, after an exciting game the score came to a 1.20 to 20. Exciting Alzada.

hirley E. McKay gave an essay on the Spies, John Andre and Nathan Hale, giving their firm faith in their native lands and each willing to sacrifice their lives for their country only regretting they had but one life to give.

Paul S. Seavey delivered a selection on The Man without a Country. This was at the time when Noland inquired the messages of the Portuguese ers who had been ship wrecked and were endeavoring to reach their home, which vividly brought to our mind the same situation, only that he was with a country to return to.

Yacynth M. Gammon recited the story of the hen or the horse. Two men decided to find out who was the head of the house;—to the one where the woman was the hen was left, to the other a horse.

the man said he was head, when a voice from inside said, "Take my horse," "No you don't," replied the giver, "you'll take a hen." Paul L. Brooks gave a vision of war during the horrors of war fare, which hardships to the warriors, and visions to his family and those dependent upon him at home. Frances G. Andrews gave the story of young deck hand "who Said n". This was one of his favorite decks and one day when on board a small girl fell over board, and saved her after much difficulty, rather, who was a college professor, whom he should go home and he would be well cared for.

corner house to the Charles Thurston cottage on the Bryant farm.

A. W. Arlett is to extend his picture business this season, and will solicit camera work for several towns in the county.

Excellent pictures are being displayed here each week through the Bragdon circuit. Some of the best features are announced for Saturday evening of this week. All appreciated the play last week, "When the West Was Young."

Next Sabbath will be "Mother's Day at the Baptist church. The service forenoon and evening will be conducted by Rev. J. J. Hull. The male quartet will assist at the evening service.

Members of the high school will entertain the people of Rumford Corner, Saturday evening, giving their play, "At the Junction," for the benefit of the senior class.

The William Day house has been sold to Daniel Bryant of Greenwood.

CLEANSERS FOR ALL

A boon to housewives is the soap and powders calling for no fire. First, dip the garment in clear water, then soap the soiled parts with naphtha soap.
Make the naphtha-soap suds strong and soak the article in it—overnight if necessary. Some housewives roll up the articles, and have the water lukewarm, but not hot, as that evaporates the naphtha. This is a good way to wash white dresses. However, those wishing to use hot water, in laundering fine white dresses do well to use castile, ivory, or borax soap. Borax is a help to other soaps.
Do not rub the delicate fabric, but press and squeeze, then rinse in several waters or set vessel under the faucet and let the water on the dress run clear. Squeeze the water out, or gently wring.

When washing lace, chiffon, or veils the greatest care must be taken to stir the article around in the suds, merely dry lay, etc., pin to cloth the same color, and stretch the cloth, pinning it against the wall or some other surface, and out-of doors if white, or it will be dingy when dry. It will then need no ironing, or, what is a big bottle to ensure a smooth surface.

Some stains on white goods, if of fruit are obliterated by first in camphor, then washing with soda. Wash napkins, fine handkerchiefs, and like fine fabrics, by themselves, instead of in the general wash-water.

When taking out spots with gasoline, first dip the soiled portion in water, moistening a larger surface than that covered by the spot; then the gasoline will not leave a contrast between the cleansed place and the rest of the garment.

Clean keys of a musical instrument with alcohol, instead of water, and they will not turn yellow.

To clean tarnished silver, place them on the drain, and pour over them very hot water in which has been dissolved salt and baking soda, two level tablespoons each to the gallon of water.
Turn over and pour more water over them, then scald thoroughly with clear water, and wipe immediately.

White worsted dresses, children's white woolen coats, any woolen cloth of white, is handsomely cleaned with powdered rice. Sprinkle it thickly over all the surface, and rub it well into every part, then leave until next day. Then take the garment out-of-doors, and brush out the ground rice, which will bring out the dirt as well. Select a pleasant day, to make sure the cleaning is thoroughly done.

To clean furs, heat bran in the oven, put the furs in a box over closely, and shake furcely. Then with a brush, or the hands, dust and shake out the bran.
Renew the bran and rub well into the fur without injuring it by rough use.

The third brush with clean bran will complete the operation, when a thorough shaking must be given. After making sure that all bran is out, pass a damp suede cloth over the fur and it is clean.

To clean men's clothing, a dark cloth if the clothes are dark—dipped in kerosene, is excellent. Take on the ironing board, and rub out all spots first, then renew the kerosene and go over the whole surface. Then lay a warm cloth iron, making sure to place the creases where they were when they came from the store. A drop of black ink, for black clothes, added to the kerosene, revives a suit wonderfully. Sometimes vividly a suit, subjected to this treatment looks like new. Before applying any liquid, shake, brush, or beat out all dust.

As this work is done with the hands, either hand with soap and water, or the hands with soap and fill under the nails with the same caution.

Clean hardwood furniture with vinegar one part, and sweet oil three parts.

Unsifted cornmeal, for the hands is more efficacious than powdered pumice stone. Dip washrag in hot water, rub on soap, dip in dry meal, and apply to soiled hands as a cleanser and softener.

What the Voice Tells.

That the pitch of the voice bears some relation to certain states of feeling is tolerably clear. Wrongs of life usually are revealed through the habitual change of expression; where the nerve currents have been most in the habit of flowing in health, they incline to flow more to express its feelings or sensations, and hence disease is expressed in the face.
For the same reason we would expect to find wrongs in life expressed in the voice, in all animals using the voice and in man who is the most expressive of the instrument of expression.

As we come into the sick-room, we unconsciously give attention to the voice of the sick person quite as much as we do to what he is saying. We find that it is pressed through from local condition of the brain in its tone, which varies from the listlessness of extreme weakness to the querulous-ness of excited feebleness and excitation of overactivity.

pers, and one pound butter cartons.

HOW TO BAKE BEANS AND BROWN BREAD.

When considering results, the bean and the bean pot are most important. The bean pot must be brown earthen, with a handle at the side and a closely fitting cover with a white glazed lining.

The beans must be pea-soups. To a quart allow a pound of salt pork, a solid chunk, lean and fat about equally divided. Soak the beans over night in the bean pot.

In the morning set them on the range and let the water just come to a boil, but do not let them cook at all after that.
Drain off the water and take out about a cupful of the beans. Pour boiling water over the pork and score the rind with a sharp knife. Put it into the center of the bean pot and dispose the beans you took out around it. On the rind place a half a teaspoonful of bi-carbonate of soda and three tablespoonfuls of molasses.

Fill up the pot with boiling water, cover closely and cook in a very slow oven all day, filling up with boiling water from time to time. If you use a gas oven, have the rear burner lit and turned down to the lowest power of ignition and the door of the lower oven open.

There are many recipes for the so-called Boston brown bread. Some call for rye meal and some for flour to be used in combination with the corn meal. The following is the recipe which the writer's family has used for years, almost in sight of Bunker Hill, so it deserves the name:

One cup corn meal, one cup graham flour, one cup white flour, three-fourths teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of salt, three-fourths cup of molasses and one and three-fourths cup of sweet milk.
Mix the dry ingredients, add the milk and molasses, stir well and put in butter molds. Fill the molds about two-thirds full, leaving space for the bread to rise. Steam until the bread is done and then set in a hot oven to brown.

To cut hot brown bread, draw a clean, strong, white thread sharply and firmly across the loaf, pushing it down equally on either side. The result will be clean, smooth slices, free from the stickiness that comes from knife cutting.

OUR OWN GOODS THE BEST.

New Englanders are noted the world over for shrewdness in business transactions, large or small—and we are all proud of it. If you would arouse the indignation of the average New Englander, tell somebody else in his hearing, that the aforesaid average New Englander is not keen at a trade. If his wife happens to be present and you have an over-weening desire to vex clean arrangement, Mr. Average New Englander and his folks would walk straight past a genuine bargain and not see it.
And they are not habitually on the alert for the safeguarding of their own interests, financial and otherwise. If you want to start something, do just this.

And yet—this is an open secret, long known to New England industries and their outside competitors—it is a fact that the average New Englander is prone to buy goods made at a distance, perhaps in foreign countries and pay his good New England money for those goods, thus putting out of his reach all the time approximately 50 per cent. of the amount paid; whereas, for the same money, he might purchase goods of the same or better grade, made right here in New England and thus keep in the home community the amount represented by the price thereof.

This statement is based not on sporadic instances, but actually on chronic habit, easily observable to any who will take the trouble to look. Many a New Englander Yankee who could have given David Harum pointers on a horse trade and who can spot a 10-cent piece a mile away without the aid of a field glass, is slow to see the great, big advantage which he and his family and his neighbor and his neighbor's family would derive from buying New England-made goods in preference to those made outside New England!

Many a New England woman, who prides herself on always getting her money's worth when she buys, habitually overlooks the main chance, passing by New England-made goods and paying as much or more for goods made elsewhere.
The true New Englander, who is a true, as Mr. Shakespeare would say. The one big economic principle embodied in the home market seems to elude New Englanders.

There is no excuse for this. There is a remedy and it should be applied at once.
Let every New England purchaser examine into the comparative quality and price of the New England-made article as against the similar article made elsewhere, before he or she buys. The chances are 99 in a hundred that the selection, based on such a comparison, will be in favor of the New England goods.
The comparative examination costs nothing, anyway. Ask for New England-made goods first.

BUYING A WEDDING GIFT.

When buying a wedding gift do not waste too much energy looking for novelties as in fact the bride will doubtless bless you for sticking to staples.
Take table linen, for instance, no one ever has enough of it and the sight of it always brings a kindly feeling toward the donor.

Probably it does not make as much of a show as silver or glass for good linen costs many a penny, but it is hoped that the gift is not to be made for mere show.

Beyond all things avoid buying fancy china pieces and combination dishes that will seldom or never be used, for, no matter how costly or how ornamental they are, they will sooner or later come to be classed as clutter. In these days of high rent few people can afford room even for expensive clutter, and in the hurry of every day life there isn't time to care for it if they were room.

Beauty and use combined make an admirable choice as in a dozen or even a half dozen handsome small china plates which will always be useful for dessert, salad or bread and butter plates. If they are decorated simply with a band and a monogram will be prepared to pay a good price for the latter.

A dinner cloth and napkins to match may be too costly for it is easy enough to spend twenty-five dollars on such a gift, but a handsome breakfast or lunch set may be selected. It must be large enough to cover the top of the dining table and hang over a few inches at the corners as it lies diagonally on that table. Three dollars will buy a beauty, or four dollars will buy a neat pair for everyday use. Candlesticks are acceptable because candles are used so much in the modern house or apartment and if well chosen they are unobtrusively decorative.

COULDN'T WEAR SHOE

Took Hood's Sarsaparilla and the Sore and Swelling Disappeared.

South Berwick, Me.—Mrs. Hannah Blake, a resident of this town, writing under date of Feb. 6, 1915, says:

"It was a good day for me when a paper advertising Hood's Sarsaparilla was left at my home. I found in it one letter from a woman whose case was similar to mine. I had a misstep on a flight of stairs and injured my ankle. A sore two inches across formed, and walking to favor the sore I sprained my ankle.

"Rheumatism set in, but the sore increased and became so bad, all swollen and inflamed and discharging, that I could not put on my shoe and when I could not walk. Some nights would have to get up and rub it three or four times and when I would ut it on the floor in the morning I could almost faint away, but reading about the cure in a case like mine y Hood's Sarsaparilla, I decided to use this medicine.

"Before I had taken all of the second bottle the sore had healed and he swelling had all gone down. My foot soon became entirely well. I increased in weight and was generally relieved. I cannot say enough in praise and am glad to recommend Hood's."

Remember to ask for Hood's Sarsaparilla and insist on having it.

HIS NINE REASONS

for Running
a "W & B" Mower

1. Clean and even cutting.
2. Easiest running account of lighter draft.
3. "W & B" Mowers cost less per year because they last longest.
4. Simple construction, resulting in less parts to get out of order.
5. Oil retaining chambers easily accessible to the running parts.
6. Self-sharpening due to the easy adjustment which will give a "shear cut" to the knives.
7. Longer life on account of highest grade steel materials and greatest strength of parts where strength is needed.
8. Cutting blades of reaper knife steel, grubbie grade of special analysis designed to resist the friction wear of hard usage.
9. Each mower is run in a special testing machine and rigidly inspected to see that the parts are perfect and correctly adjusted

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Mrs. Susan Kelley

Mrs. Susan Kelley passed away at her home on Alpine street at 8 a. m., Friday morning, death being due to old age and a general breaking up.

Mrs. Kelley was the daughter of Samuel and Susan (Wood) Pike, and was born in Norway, 32 years ago last March. While still in her teens, she married Thomas Kelley and from this union, a son and a daughter were born. Mr. Kelley was run over by the evening train from Portland and killed, leaving his wife and two children to fight life's battles alone.

Mrs. Kelley was an exquisite needlewoman and an expert cost maker and she took her children to Boston, where she secured employment at her trade, and she gave her son the advantage of an education in the public schools in Boston. The daughter did not long survive her father. Later she returned to her home with her son, and they have made their home here ever since. Her son, Fred Kelley survives her.

During her last sickness, she was tenderly cared for by a grandchild, a daughter of Herbert Pike of Lisbon Falls. The funeral was held at her late residence, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. G. Miller the attending clergyman. Mrs. H. E. Wilson and Grace Thayer sang appropriate selections. There were many floral offerings. She was laid to rest in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Norway Grange

The contest in the Norway Grange closed with an interesting program, Capt. Azola Pike's side winning by 6000 points. Worthy Master, George W. Richardson presented both captains with five dollar gold pieces in appreciation of the hard work they have done. John A. Roberts was the judge and was presented with a fountain pen. The losing side will furnish a dinner to the winners, sometime during the month of May. The next meeting will be on all day, Monday, May 8th. The first and second degrees to be conferred in the forenoon on a large class of candidates.

The Norway Grange have voted to make an exhibit at the county fair. They have also voted to hold their annual sale in October.

Catholic Entertainment at Grange Hall

An entertainment will be given for the benefit of the Catholic church, at the Grange hall, Wednesday evening, May 12th, entitled, "Panacea," an artistic, flexible gymnast, introduced a series of seemingly impossible feats.

Tuesday afternoon and evening and Wednesday afternoon, no admission to the fair will be charged.

Miss Elizabeth Foss has returned to her home in Norway, much improved in health, after an extended visit at the home of her niece, Mrs. Marshall H. Pitts of Harrison.

Edward E. Libby, has finished his second winter's work at the Dingley and Foss shoe shop in Auburn and returned to his home in Norway.

Ava Thine Steinhilber at the Carroll-Peabody-Johnson shoe company, goes to the Gale Bros. factory in Haverhill, Mass., this week. Bertha H. Mann is to take her place.

SECOND ANNUAL OXFORD COUNTY BOYS' CONFERENCE

The Second Annual Oxford County Boys' Conference convened Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Norway, with a good attendance. The weather on Friday was exceptionally rainy, but in spite of that, a large number were in attendance at the informal reception held at the Congregational church, after the arrival of the afternoon train.

The banquet was held Friday evening at the Norway Grange hall, with a sumptuous spread of cold meats, mashed potatoes, baked beans, salads, coffee, cake and ice cream. There were nine tables filled making an attendance of about 150. The majority of those present were boys and young men from various parts of Oxford County and made up a lively and energetic company. Town yells and cheers were frequent, giving evidence of the friendliness and good time the boys were enjoying. Music was furnished by the Norway High school orchestra during the supper hour.

The banquet committee was made up of E. N. Swett, C. S. Kears and Lee Smith, who secured the services of L. I. Gilbert to take charge of the supper. He was assisted in the kitchen by Mr. Charles S. Akers, Mrs. L. C. Gilbert, Mrs. L. A. Millett, Mrs. Percy Proctor, Mrs. Eugene Lebroke. The dining room was in charge of Mrs. Frank Lovejoy, and the young ladies who waited on the tables were: Gladys Wood, Gladys Edwards, Jessie Chase, Katherine Chase, Grace Chick, Azola Pike, Ruth Smith, Noyes, Gertrude Hunt, Emogene Hunt, Marion Gibson, Marietta Nichols, Esther Pike, Winifred McKee, Josie Chase, Christine Leavitt, Orra Cook, Doris Longley and Adeline DeCoster.

Following the supper the company was called to order by A. J. Stearns, who was the toastmaster for the evening. Col. Stearns filled the position very acceptably and was right on the spot with a story for the introduction of all the speakers. In his opening remarks he said he had never met such a bunch of humanity in the Grange hall before and was glad of the opportunity. In introducing the speaker who was to give the address of welcome in behalf of the boys, he said, "I will now introduce to you Chickie as he is called by the boys and how'd'ya by the girls and if there is any thing you want from an auto ride to an introduction to any of our young ladies, he is the man that will see that your wants are supplied."

Howard Chick extended the welcome from the boys of Norway, Richard Millett from the boys of South Paris, Rev. B. J. Brown from the boys of Harrison, C. I. Spear, Rev. L. L. Nichols and Rev. C. G. Miller, the welcome from the pastors of the two villages, and E. N. Swett from the business men of Norway.

A hearty welcome was extended by each speaker urging that the boys enter into the spirit of the convention, have a good time and to be sure and carry away from it a lasting inspiration for a higher aim in life.

The response for the boys was made by Lester E. Henry of Rumford, the president of the 1913 conference. He stated that the boys present were from all parts of the county and represented the young manhood of the county and believed that much good would be gained from the convention and new ideas gained that would assist and help the boys which are a valuable asset to the county and who will be the future citizens of the state.

The response for the leaders was made by John E. Stephens of Rumford, who paid high compliments to the banquet committee for the banquet and the leaders fully appreciate the banquet extended to the Conference.

The speaker of the evening was Orlando P. Frost of Belfast. In the course of his interesting address he stated that he was a business man and a lawyer and he believed the greatest asset any business can have is the young men. Business men want young men who are strictly temperate, who do not use drink nor tobacco and especially cigarette and one who is ambitious. He told a story of a young man who gave a Boston bank his name as reference and on receipt of the letter with a long list of questions to be answered, told him to write a letter to the bank saying, "If you can get that fellow for the position you are mightily fortunate," and he was immediately employed.

Each fellow is making his own record, it is making his own character, he should be careful in his judgment and decisions. The boys are greater assets than the dollar signs and are not merely making machines.

He told the story of the intoxicated man, who came to a well dressed man assuming he was a clergyman and asked, "I don't believe there is any heaven," the remark was repeated several times, replied, "well, if you don't believe there is a heaven go elsewhere, but go quickly."

He told several interesting but forceful stories concerning life among a pictured the life of a fellow who began using the funds of a bank for his personal use, told of his escape from justice for a while and the penalty.

In closing he compared the lives of men to that of a little four year old girl who thought it great fun to drive the auto, till she fell fast asleep and waking up found she still had her hands on the wheel and her father was guiding the "driving their own car" when in reality they are as helpless as the little girl. God is guiding our lives and in closing said, "make of yourself the best you can and honor yourself, your country and your God."

The Saturday morning session was held in the vestry of the Congregational church. The song service was led by J. M. Arters of Rumford and the Quiet Hour and took for the scripture reading the 10th chapter of Matthew, and spoke of the greater possibilities that he felt before him, then in the rich young ruler. C. O. Hatfield of New York delivered an address on "Symmetrical Manhood." In life, to be a success, one must have a life work and in youth is the time to think what that work will be. Efficiency is a needed quality and the man who is trained to deliver the goods in a shorter space of time than the other fellow is the man that is wanted. He spoke of ability, reliability, honesty and action, education and honesty as essentials in making a symmetrical manhood.

Interesting reports were given by Cecil Akers and Victor Akers of Andover, along the lines of "What One Boy's Club Has Accomplished." At Andover about 9 years ago, K. O. K. A. was formed, which lasted for a while, when it

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn. — "I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is no other medicine for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."

CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (Attention) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be promptly read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

emerged into another club, which until a few years ago, only dragged along without any definite aim. At that time new work forming clubs for younger boys, work in the line of bible classes, formed, and village improvements, cleaning up the town were undertaken. They are also preparing to wire the church for electric lighting and will be in readiness soon as electricity is supplied to the town.

A discussion relating to boys' clubs and organizations was led by A. A. Heald of Waterville. A report was given by the boys of the different towns concerning their work the clubs and many new ideas for work were gleaned that will aid the boys of other towns.

An address on community work was given by Archie E. Winter of Kennebunk. He spoke of the work that can be done the smaller country communities by means of the community house, with its organization, its studies, its individual help and in many instances the community is changed from a place, where ill feeling and narrowness has predominated to a place, where all work also spoke along the lines of religious, social, physical and educational training, by means of these men's and boys' clubs, and in many instances, educational talks are given by local dentists, lawyers, physicians, druggists and business men.

At the morning session the officers elected were as follows:

Pres.—Cecil C. Swett, Andover.
Vice-Pres.—Clement Wood, South Paris.
Elected—Burr Hammon, Howard Chick, Nor. Sec.—Burton Byron, Rumford.
Pastor—Rev. C. G. Miller, Andover.

A picture of the Conference was taken by Vivian Akers and a large number of the pictures were sold.

Saturday afternoon a meeting of the leaders was held at the municipal court in charge of Rev. J. M. Arters and an address on Burial Organization was given by C. C. Hatfield of New York.

The ball game between the Norway High and the Bates 2nd team was called off, because of the rain and in place of a game of basketball was played at the Opera House by two picked teams.

During the latter part of the afternoon the boys visited the shoe shop, the Mason Mfg. Company, the Paris Mfg. shop and other places of interest about the two villages.

The Saturday evening session was held at the Congregational church and opened with a song service. R. B. Nelles of Greenville Junction led the devotional services. A stereoscopic lecture entitled, "A Good Country Boy," was given by A. A. Heald in place of C. O. Hatfield who was called back to New York in the afternoon. The pictures showed outings and sports that are enjoyed by many of the state, including fishing, tramping, racing, fencing, swimming, ball games and many other athletic feats. They also showed an advance that is being made with Agricultural clubs, teaching the boys advanced farming, enabling them to produce a better quality of produce. Several of the views showed the exhibition products at different fairs.

Sunday afternoon a mass meeting for the older boys and young men was held at the Congregational church, instead of at the Opera House, at 2 o'clock. Jefferson Smith led the song service and was followed by an address entitled the "Coming Man," by R. B. Nelles. In his opening remarks he told of one incident Conference. During that Conference a story of the life of a young man was told, showing the possibilities in his life, downward career, through a district. A young man who had attended the Conference on his way home by train told one of the leaders, that story was had been a word of warning to him, and he was going back home and live a different life. The coming man is the one who enters into school, into athletics and into business, bearing the name of Christ. He must be original, have an abundance of courage, he must respond to God's call and stand out in the arena and fight life's battles facing the burdens of foundation and must reflect the teachings of Christ in his life's mirror, and in conclusion his whole life must be a life of service.

At the close of the meeting an invitation was extended and thirty-one made declaration that they would enlist in this service.

A Union meeting of all the young peoples' societies of Norway and South Paris was held at 8 o'clock Sunday evening at the Norway Methodist church and was largely attended. Jefferson C. Smith of Waterville addressed the gathering. He took for his subject, "Little Things." In the course of his remarks he said that as he was growing older he had come to the conclusion that it is the little things that counted in life. In reviewing some of his work among the young people of the state told of many incidents where the little things, in decisions, in judgments, in the social glass, in bad habits had been the ultimate cause of their down fall, and which had grown from a small beginning into such proportions, that they had become apparent failures. For one illustration he told of how during a heavy storm one of the steeple chimes in his city, blew down. On investigating, it was found that a tiny worm had bored its way into the vital part of the tree, so when the storm came it went over, and said he, "the same is true in our lives, if we allow the worm of sin to work, when the test comes we will be unable to stand the pressure. We must clear the decks and put away those sins in order to attain the best."

The last session of the Conference was held at the Norway Opera House, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. This was a union session of all the churches of the two villages and the Opera House was well filled, the Conference boys occupying the center section of the hall. A stereoscopic lecture was given by Jefferson C. Smith. The pictures shown illustrated the work of the Y. M. C. A. that is being done throughout the state. Many of the leading Y. M. C. A. buildings with their spacious reading and study rooms, chambers, hospital departments, recreation rooms and restaurants were shown.

In the course of his address he said that there was a work for the boys of Norway and said, "only last night a man was on Norway's streets, peddling liquor, enticing young fellows into his place, to deal with them this kind of stuff, and not only is it for the boys to fight it, but for the men and women as well."

The farewell message was given by R. B. Nelles, who in a few brief remarks summed up the message of the conference in saying that the boys had come here for a purpose, that they had obtained that purpose. Four things he wanted each one to remember, that he must have absolute certainty, comradeship, obedience and enter into a definite service for the Master.

The Conference was officially dismissed by the president Cecil Swett of Andover, who had presided at the Conference meetings.

The committee under whose charge the Conference was held were as follows:

Penny Wise and Pound Foolish

Hard times make every woman look to see where she can save money, which, of course, is sensible and proper if not carried too far.

In the case of food it would be foolish to attempt to substitute sawdust for a breakfast food because it is cheaper. Everyone knows sawdust has no food value and its use would be a positive detriment to the health.

Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, adds only healthful qualities to the food.

The difference in cost of a pan of biscuits or of a cake made with Royal Baking Powder as compared with cheap alum or phosphate of lime powders is about one cent, which is surely too small an amount to warrant the risk.

WEST PARIS.

Elmer Eugene Tuell

Elmer Eugene Tuell died at the insane hospital in Westboro, Mass., last week, Tuesday, where he had been for the past year. Mr. Tuell was the son of Mrs. Melinda Crawford Tuell and the late Henry Tuell and was born in Paris, February 12, 1853. The largest part of his life was spent in this town and for 20 years in this village.

About 5 years ago he obtained work in Walpole, Mass., and moved his family there. He married Mattie D. Bowker of Sumner and they have had four children, Laura Blanch, who died in infancy, Madge S. wife of Wirt S. McKenny, Ivan H. and Maud B. who survive and are living in Greenfield, Mass.

He was a man of cheerful disposition, honest and upright in character and had a lot of friends and acquaintances.

Especially is his death hard for his aged mother who has during the past six years endured the sickness and death of her husband, her daughter and her husband, and now her son, bereft in her advancing years of all her immediate family.

Mr. Tuell was a member of the Universalist parish, I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges. The body was brought here Wednesday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Tuell, Ivan and Maud and taken to the home of his mother. Thursday morning the funeral services were held in the Universalist church, Rev. D. A. Hall officiating. The I. O. O. F. also attended and performed their burial service. The Rebekahs also attended in a body. Interment in the West Paris cemetery.

Mrs. J. F. Wood is training the grammar school students for their graduating exercises.

Friends of Mrs. Alice Ford wife of the late Rev. D. R. Ford, who died here a few years ago in the M. E. church and died while here, will be glad to hear that she has been received into another home as the wife of Rev. Geo. R. Palmer of Falmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wood are in Portland April 27th by the District Superintendent Rev. Mr. Holt.

Among those who were here from out of town to attend the funeral of E. E. Tuell were: Mrs. Jennie Brown Dunham of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Lottie Abbott of South Paris; Mrs. J. L. Bowker of Portland; Mrs. Herbert Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Heath, George and Odel Heath of Sumner.

Miss Barlen went to South Paris last Monday and sang at the anniversary of Mt. Micah Lodge.

Mrs. Harry Hamilton of Greenfield, Mass., has been spending a few days visiting her brother and relatives. Her father S. W. Dunham returned with her. Mr. Dunham accompanied them as far as Boston.

Mrs. G. A. Smith went to a private hospital in Portland last Friday for treatment.

Mrs. W. F. Dunham of Lynn, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Brown. Mr. Brown is gaining now.

Mrs. Fannie Emmons and grandson Karl Hayes of Portland are visiting at David Emmons and other friends.

Mrs. Ella Swan died at her home on the Greenwood road just outside the village last Friday afternoon. She was the daughter of Geo. W. and Elizabeth Doughty now of Norway. Mrs. Swan was born in Greenwood 47 years ago and spent nearly all her life there. She married Moses A. Swan. Mr. Swan died about three years ago. Since then she has lived with her stepdaughter, Mrs. Gerald Swift and family. Her parents and two brothers, Thaxter Doughty of Norway and John B. Doughty of West Paris survive her. She was a member of the Universalist church and was buried at the Universalist church Sunday, Rev. D. A. Hall officiating. She left many friends to mourn their loss.

Rev. Sarah Robinson of Weld is going to preach at the Baptist church for a month or so, while Rev. Q. W. Raymond takes a vacation. Mr. Raymond and daughter went to their cottage at Ocean Park Wednesday morning for the summer.

D. Andrews is going to have an auction at the late Rev. Seth Benson home Saturday.

There were eight from West Paris Grange who went to West Bethel to Portland Thursday. They report a good time. Two took the 5th degree.
